GETTING STARTED

How to Use This Guide

This guide covers statewide Nevada resources: the government agencies, hotlines, and courts that serve every county. Each section also tells you how to find the right local office near you.

Start here: Nevada has a Protection Order Against Stalking or Harassment, separate from its domestic violence order, filed at Justice Court.

Before you call: have your documentation ready — dates, what happened, any messages or photos saved, and whether a report has already been filed elsewhere.

If you're in danger: call 911 first. Every other number in this guide is for follow-up support, not emergency response.

What's inside

- Emergency & immediate-danger contacts
- Statewide Nevada agencies (Victims of Crime Program, Courts Protection Order Forms)
- Reporting to local police & county sheriffs
- Domestic violence protective orders explained
- Step-by-step: filing a report & getting a protective order
- Specialized support (child abuse, elder abuse, civil rights)
- A one-page master contact sheet

Legal notice: This guide offers general information for educational purposes and is not legal advice. Phone numbers, addresses, and procedures for Nevada state and local agencies were verified at time of writing but can change — confirm current details with the agency directly. Stalking.org is not affiliated with any agency listed and is not a crisis service. If you are in immediate danger, call 911.

Emergency & Immediate Danger

If a stalker is near you right now, threatening you, or has violated a protection order, these are your first calls — before anything else in this guide.

Emergency — Police, Fire, Medical

911

Call if you are in immediate danger, right now.

Nevada Highway Patrol (find your local station)

Via nhp.nv.gov

For non-emergency matters outside local police jurisdiction.

Nevada Courts — Protection Order Registry

Via nvcourts.gov

Statewide registry so any law enforcement agency can verify an active protection order.

Can't speak safely? In areas where Text-to-911 is supported, you can text instead of calling — check with your mobile carrier or alea.gov for coverage in your county.

LOCAL POLICE

● Reporting to Local Police & Sheriffs

Stalking is usually reported to the police department in the city where you live or work, or to your county sheriff outside city limits.

Your local police department (non-emergency line)Dial 911, or search “[your city] police non-emergency”

Stalking can be reported at any city police department or county sheriff's office.

Your county sheriff's officeVaries by county

Primary law enforcement in unincorporated parts of Nevada.

Your Justice CourtFind yours via nvcourts.gov

File a Protection Order Against Stalking or Harassment — separate from, and not dependent on, a domestic relationship.

Good to know: you can file a report at any police department, not only the one nearest the stalker. Ask for the officer's name, a complaint or case number, and how to follow up.

COURTS

Protection Orders in Nevada

Protection Order Against Stalking or Harassment:

separate from the domestic violence order, available regardless of your relationship to the person.

Two stages: a Temporary order gives immediate protection; an Extended order can follow for a longer term after a hearing.

Valid everywhere: under federal law, this order is enforceable in all 50 states, DC, and U.S. territories.

Nevada Courts

Step-by-Step: What to Expect

●Filing a Police Report

- 1 Go to any police department or county sheriff's office — you do not have to go to the one nearest the stalker.
- 2 Ask to speak with an officer and say clearly that you want to report stalking or harassment.
- 3 Bring your documentation: dates, messages, photos, and names of any witnesses.
- 4 Ask for the report's complaint number before you leave, and request a copy if possible.
- 5 Ask about victim assistance resources — many departments have a victim advocate or can refer you to ACADV.

●Getting an Order of Protection

- 1 Go to the Justice Court in your township and ask for a Protection Order Against Stalking or Harassment application.
- 2 Describe each incident with as much detail as possible — dates, what happened, and any pattern you've noticed.
- 3 File the application with the court.
- 4 A judge can issue a Temporary order quickly, often without the other party present.
- 5 The order is served on the other party by law enforcement — keep a copy with you, at home, and at work.
