GETTING STARTED

How to Use This Guide

This guide covers statewide Wyoming resources: the government agencies, hotlines, and courts that serve every county. Each section also tells you how to find the right local office near you.

Start here: Wyoming issues protection orders in three categories — domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking — and law enforcement can enforce them anywhere.

Before you call: have your documentation ready — dates, what happened, any messages or photos saved, and whether a report has already been filed elsewhere.

If you're in danger: call 911 first. Every other number in this guide is for follow-up support, not emergency response.

What's inside

- Emergency & immediate-danger contacts
- Statewide Wyoming agencies (Division of Victim Services, victim compensation, Courts)
- Reporting to local police & county sheriffs
- Domestic violence protective orders explained
- Step-by-step: filing a report & getting a protective order
- Specialized support (child abuse, elder abuse, civil rights)
- A one-page master contact sheet

Legal notice: This guide offers general information for educational purposes and is not legal advice. Phone numbers, addresses, and procedures for Wyoming state and local agencies were verified at time of writing but can change — confirm current details with the agency directly. Stalking.org is not affiliated with any agency listed and is not a crisis service. If you are in immediate danger, call 911.

ACT NOW

Emergency & Immediate Danger

If a stalker is near you right now, threatening you, or has violated a protection order, these are your first calls — before anything else in this guide.

Emergency — Police, Fire, Medical

911

Call if you are in immediate danger, right now.

Wyoming Highway Patrol

Via your local WHP district office

For non-emergency matters outside local police jurisdiction.

Wyoming VINE (offender custody notification)

Via your county victim/witness program

Free notification if an offender is released, transferred, or has a change in status; you must register.

Can't speak safely? In areas where Text-to-911 is supported, you can text instead of calling — check with your mobile carrier or alea.gov for coverage in your county.

LOCAL POLICE

● Reporting to Local Police & Sheriffs

Stalking is usually reported to the police department in the city where you live or work, or to your county sheriff outside city limits.

Your local police department (non-emergency line)Dial 911, or search “[your city] police non-emergency”

Stalking can be reported at any city police department or county sheriff's office.

Your county sheriff's or prosecuting attorney's Victim/Witness ProgramVaries by county

Free, confidential help with crisis support, compensation claims, and information on stalking protection orders, sponsored by the Division of Victim Services.

Your county court clerkFind yours via wyomingjudiciary.gov

Ask about filing a stalking protection order.

Good to know: you can file a report at any police department, not only the one nearest the stalker. Ask for the officer's name, a complaint or case number, and how to follow up.

COURTS

Protection Orders in Wyoming

Three categories: Wyoming issues protection orders for domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking.

What it does: a protection order can instruct a stalker not to abuse or harass you, and may contain other provisions depending on the type sought.

Enforcement: law enforcement officers can enforce a protection order anywhere under the state statute for violation of a protection order.

HOW-TO

Step-by-Step: What to Expect

● Filing a Police Report

- 1 Go to any police department or county sheriff's office — you do not have to go to the one nearest the stalker.
- 2 Ask to speak with an officer and say clearly that you want to report stalking or harassment.
- 3 Bring your documentation: dates, messages, photos, and names of any witnesses.
- 4 Ask for the report's complaint number before you leave, and request a copy if possible.
- 5 Ask about victim assistance resources — many departments have a victim advocate or can refer you to ACADV.

● Getting a Stalking Protection Order

- 1 Contact your county's Victim/Witness program, or the Division of Victim Services at 307-777-7200, for information on a stalking protection order.
- 2 Ask your county court clerk for the stalking protection order forms.
- 3 Describe each incident with as much detail as possible — dates, what happened, and any pattern you've noticed.
- 4 File the petition; the court can issue an order, with a hearing to follow.
- 5 Keep a copy of any order with you, at home, and at work.
